WRITING

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women are merely players". I think that this quotation means that all the men and women have their own roles in the world as in a theater. William Shakespeare was a poet and he also wrote some dramas and novels, so this word very suits him.

My personal opinion about his words is ambivalent. ~~Every~~ Everyone were born in an ~~as~~ unequal places. Every personality is ~~unique~~ special and ~~unique~~. You are creator of your destiny. On the other hand you was born in correct place, met your friends ate ~~the~~ same food, all your decisions ~~were~~ has been decided before your birth. ~~Who decided~~ But who could decide its? ~~It's~~ Good? Destiny? Scientists ~~also~~ also don't know the right answer.

Once in a One day I was walking. It was sunny and stormy day. And then I met my old friend. She said "Hello" and then said my name. I was ~~amshoe~~ confused because I didn't recognize her. After that ~~I~~ I answered ~~And we~~ and she told me about her life. Her life changed in a carnel! She moved, and began ~~to~~ playing piano. I taught that I will never meet her again. Then I ~~was thinking~~ thought about destiny and her life and understood that she ~~real~~ did all goals that she wanted. She did it. She's dreammed about piano since she was six.

In conclusion, I think that ~~If you will~~ ~~you only~~ you can choose your way of existing. Your every choice is right. But destiny also can exist. ~~You decide better~~ Only you should decide, believe in it or not.
